

I am outraged that the FCC may soon vote to end long-established rules governing multiple ownership of media. You should be serving the public interest by doing everything you can to prevent further consolidation of the media. If you vote to allow further consolidation of the media you are making it very clear that you care nothing about the public interest and care only to serve the interests of the industry which you are supposed to regulate.